

IS TEACHING GETTING WORSE IN SPAIN?

It is undeniably true that this is one of the most important topics for any country. This issue is related to the future and to the welfare state of any group of people. Most people thought that governments should be really aware of this problem. Besides, some famous philosophers throughout the world have claimed that if something is truly important in a nation, this is its education.

Those in favour of Spanish schools suggest that our teaching budget has been increasing year by year. Moreover, new technologies have recently been used in schools, for instance computing. Supporters of our educational system also claim that our engineers are receiving offers from all over the world and they are really well considered. However, opponents expose that our teachers are not well prepared. In addition, subjects as essential as languages have never been taught in a right way.

In order to be able solve or improve this situation, some experts have just asserted three points.

Firstly, the importance of languages. Nowadays, not only should students learn their own language but also they have to be capable of writing and speaking as well; at least, in one or two foreign languages.

Secondly, the effort of students. It is commonly thought that children usually do not need to employ all of their capabilities, since their tasks are not difficult enough.

Lastly, the role of parents. They should be more worried about their children, mainly regarding their teaching performance.

Finally, if a farmer sows in spring they will get his crop in autumn. I am sure that he will have enough food to pass the winter. If a government does not firstly sow, that is to say, it does not spend time and money developing a competitive teaching; it will have severe troubles in "winter".

xxx xx 11/10/11 16:27

Comentario [1]: Suggestion: to avoid repetition I would say "society".

xxx xx 11/10/11 16:03

Comentario [2]: Why the past? People still think that governments should be concerned about education. Use the present: think

xxx xx 11/10/11 16:03

Comentario [3]: In this context I would say: throughout history

xxx xx 11/10/11 16:35

Comentario [4]: I think you mean: Those who defend Spanish schools

xxx xx 11/10/11 16:03

Comentario [5]: Better: education budget

xxx xx 11/10/11 16:03

Comentario [6]: Don't use the continuous here: has increased

xxx xx 11/10/11 16:03

Comentario [7]: Suggestion: introduced

xxx xx 11/10/11 16:04

Comentario [8]: This sounds awkward: for instance almost all schools today have one computer for each student.

xxx xx 11/10/11 16:02

Comentario [9]: Suggestion: claim that...

xxx xx 11/10/11 16:03

Comentario [10]: The correct expression would be: have never been taught the right way. Nonetheless, a better adverb: properly.

xxx xx 11/10/11 16:06

Comentario [11]: Parallelism, use should: but also they should be capable of...

xxx xx 11/10/11 16:37

Comentario [12]: Punctuation. Erase semicolon (;): as well in, at least, one or two other languages.

xxx xx 11/10/11 16:37

Comentario [13]: You need to rewrite this sentence. I am not sure I understand what you mean.

xxx xx 11/10/11 16:37

Comentario [14]: I do not understand this sentence either. Do you mean parents' ... [1]

xxx xx 11/10/11 16:09

Comentario [15]: Pronoun: he

xxx xx 11/10/11 16:09

Comentario [16]: Suggestion: invest

xxx xx 11/10/11 16:40

Comentario [17]: Teaching is not countable. Erase semicolon: developin' ... [2]

xxx xx 11/10/11 16:40

Comentario [18]: To make this metaphor work, you should explain what this "W" ... [3]

Comentario: Logra hacer un análisis de la situación de la educación en España pero ha olvidado especular tal y como se indicaba en la pregunta.

Como puede leer en las notas, he hecho algunas sugerencias para que el vocabulario sea algo más preciso. El vocabulario que usa no es muy sofisticado y además, en ocasiones, resulta redundante.

El tercer párrafo consiste en una sola frase y resulta demasiado corto. Yo combinaría ese párrafo con los siguientes puntos que menciona. Recuerde que esto es un texto y no un esquema. Las tres primeras frases de estos párrafos parecen precisamente eso, un esquema. Le recomiendo que evite oraciones sin sujeto.

Me gusta la metáfora que ha incluido en la conclusión pero como le indico en la nota, en mi opinión, debería explicar qué quiere decir este "Winter".

Nota: 2. Debe mejorar la riqueza del vocabulario y asegurarse de que sus ideas están bien expresadas. Como le indico en las notas, hay dos oraciones que no acabo de entender.

Página 1: [1] Comentario [14]	xxx xx	11/10/11 16:37
--------------------------------------	---------------	-----------------------

I do not understand this sentence either. Do you mean parents' responsibility over the education of their children?

Página 1: [2] Comentario [17]	xxx xx	11/10/11 16:40
--------------------------------------	---------------	-----------------------

Teaching is not countable. Erase semicolon: developing an effective and competitive educational system, it will have...

Página 1: [3] Comentario [18]	xxx xx	11/10/11 16:40
--------------------------------------	---------------	-----------------------

To make this metaphor work, you should explain what this "Winter" means.