

TAREA 1

Dear Lt. Jones,

As you know, i'm commissioned in Kampala (Uganda) so as to instruct Somolian Army. You will arrive in a few days and I would like to send you and email, and try to describe this place so that you don't scream when you reach to here.

Firstly, I want to explain to you, in this base there are one part for resting people, the housing, other zone is office buildings and the other one is the training camp.

The housing is quite new and here are individual rooms for each member of your party. Officer's rooms location are on the second floor and you have a lift opposite your room in case you need it. 118 words to here. The word -limit was 100 +/-10 %. Rooms are equipped with bathroom inside, tv, internet, conditioning air...all of the luxuries of the modern life. Rest of the rooms are similar with an unique difference, they don't have your morning sights to the bay.

The main road goes from the housing till the training camp, and it finishes there so that you don't have to think about how you go or how much time you go to employ...is very very near, I'm talking to you about 5 or 6 minutes. It's a very common training camp, with an emergency post and all the material are there. The mayor of camp show you all this.

I'm glad to be here, but I want to return home. I hope this letters help you to know a little bit more about this place and if you need anything, please manage to make me know it.

Best Regards

LT.Martínez

I was commanding the company formation, and we were in close order marching towards the Embosser platform. Until now, all was running ok. Twenty meters previous to platform, I ordered right sight, we kept on marching...and just, when we pass at the level of the platform, Mr Camps the Embassor, you don't me ask why or why not, tried to salute the company and at this moment he fell down to the right like a heavy stone. 120 words to here :word-limit again.
