

Educational system has always been the center of heated debates and of paramount importance for parents and students. Reportedly, students' level in Spain has decreased dramatically in the last ten years. Figures does not lie, the percentage of students that could not achieve their goals, is higher year by year. The educational system got reformed about ten years ago, although the complete process takes almost three years, due to its three stages implantation program.

In my modest opinion, the new educational system was a big mistake, one of the first mistake was the change that let a student start a new course even if he/she still has not finished or pass several matters of the year before, cause with this fact you are overloading students that must not only face their new themes, but also need to review their last years exams. Other point to keep in mind is the fact that the participation of the family in the educational process has decreased a lot, due to the difficulties that parents find to follow their children progress, and this made very difficult for them to help children with their duties. And last but not least, the excessive work that students are supposed to do at home is in direct relation with the lost of time they have for study and prepare exams.

I strongly believe that the educational system must be reviewed again, and need to follow a implementation program that permit make changes in short time, adjusting the system according to the results and the figures that shows if it is working correctly. On one hand it would need a bigger effort from the Educational and Science Ministry; on the other hand we could surely observe a notable improve in the system, erasing a high percentage of academic failure cases.
