

NORTH AFRICA'S GEOSTRATEGY: NEW TIME BOMB

Nobody can believe what is happening in several countries of Africa North: Young people have decided to take the streets and to fight against the power established during decades. They want to change the current political system and achieve political reforms aiming to a new democratic system.

Comentario [s1]: Various North African countries

Comentario [s2]: People who have been in power for decades

Comentario [s3]: Which will lead

The question is: If they achieve their goals, it will be the world prepared to assume a complete geostrategic change?.

Comentario [s4]: Will the world be

Comentario [s5]: Such a

From where I stand this new pawns movement could destabilize the current chessboard, breaking some important pieces, like it has happened with some "kings" whom were thinking that they could be perpetuated in power.

Comentario [s6]: New movement of the 'pawns'

Comentario [s7]: Causing the fall of

Comentario [s8]: which

Comentario [s9]: who had been

Comentario [s10]: stay in power forever.

For the fine line where the world economy is emplaced, this new situation could result very dangerous, but there is a clear message from the young people in this part of the world: they want to have similar opportunities like other young people living in the developed world.

Comentario [s11]: Because of the delicate situation the global economy is currently in

Comentario [s12]: Turn out to be

Comentario [s13]: to

To sum up and taking everything mentioned into account, the current situation can be summarized thinking that we are in front of an open window and in the distance a strong storm is arriving.

Comentario [s14]: by thinking

Comentario [s15]: violent storm is brewing.

Miguel Rodriguez Sanchez

Good. You have attempted to make some quite complex constructions and have not been afraid to take risks. But your piece could have been a little longer: 250 words +/- 10 % is the recommended length and it would have been nice to see a little more speculation and use of the conditional-you will need to do this if you are to get a 2+ or 3 grade in the exam.SLP2