

Ejercicio 5

WINDS OF CHANGE.

The title of this song matches perfectly with the new situation that we find nowadays in some countries in the North of Africa. It is a fact that a civilian revolution is blowing up everywhere on there, changing the reality that the population had been suffering for years. The young people with the help of the new technologies, social networks and internet in general, are on the head of those revolutionary movements. Apparently, everything is being motivated of a need of freedom and looking for improvements in their standard of living. And what is more, everything is happening in a very short term of time.

In a romantic way, this revolution, this dream of freedom looks marvelous and good for the health of the world. But this kind of changes could also represent the beginning of many unexpected problems, not only in a social or economic way but also regarding security.

Initially everything appears fair, and as I said already, very romantic. Nevertheless some analysts are pointing out that behind this, could be hide one radical Islamic support. Because the governments those countries were considered Islamic moderates and were also mostly cooperatives with the powerful western countries.

Comment: "is breaking out" = una revolución estalla = a revolution breaks out.

Comment: "in that area"

Comment: "the population of those countries", mejor.

Comment: Normalmente "the Internet"

Comment: "at"

Comment: "by the need of.."

Comment: Este gerundio no encaja aquí. ¿Quién está buscando? El referente de los gerundios ha de quedar siempre muy claro, y situarse en la oración principal de la cual depende la oración de gerundio. Por lo tanto reformular: "and improvements..." Se entiende que también depende "the need of"

Comment: "period", mejor en este contexto.

Comment: "From a romantic point of view"

Comment: "for the world's health", mejor.

Comment: Mejor "in social or economic terms"

Comment: "seems to be fair"

Comment: "analysts", plural.

Comment: "support for radical Islam could be hidden"

Comment: Mejor eliminar "because", porque esta frase no mantiene una relación de causalidad con la anterior.

Comment: "of those"

Comment: Eliminar la -s porque se trata de un adjetivo y los adjetivos nunca llevan -s de plural.

Any sort of radicalism could show up a new situation out of control. First in the affecting the global economy because they produce petroleum and other energetic products, secondly this kind of social revolution could be translate wherever that the situation was comparable maintaining that uncertain situation, but afterwards the worst scenario would be a confrontation between this radicalism with an Islamic soul against the western countries.

Comment: "could produce a new..." El verbo "show up" significa presentarse en un sitio, y no es transitivo (no lleva objeto directo).

Comment: Estructura imposible. Suponemos que se ha querido decir "First of all, it would affect the..."

Comment: ¿Quién produce? Especifíquese.

Comment: "sources of energy" o "raw materials" (materias primas).

Comment: "could be transferred to any other place with a similar situation"

Comment: Fragmento incomprensible. 1) ¿Cuál es el referente del gerundio, es decir, quién se mantiene? 2) Se acaba de hablar de la situación, ¿de qué otra situación se está hablando ahora?

Comment: "between.... and...." No encaja "between .... against.."
